NINE FEDEX DRIVERS EARN HONORS
AT THE NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE TRUCK DRIVING CHAMPIONSHIP
Winners Demonstrate Commitment to Safety and Professionalism

PEMBROKE, N.H. – June 8, 2009 – Nine drivers representing FedEx Corp. (NYSE: FDX) operating companies placed among the winners at the 2009 New Hampshire State Truck Driving Championship in Pembroke on June 6.

- Paul Robichaud, a driver for FedEx Express based in Londonderry, captured the top spot in the 4-Axle class to earn his sixth state title.
- Norman Sullivan, also a driver for FedEx Express in Londonderry, won the Flatbed class for the second straight year.
- Curt Wheeler, a driver for FedEx Ground contractor Timothy Auker (Manchester), earned first place in the Step Van class.
- Londonderry-based FedEx Express drivers Kurt Crear and Edward Gertz finished second and third, respectively, in the Step Van class.
- Boston-based FedEx Ground contractor Samuel Foulds posted a second-place finish in the 3-Axle class and was also named Rookie of the Year.
- Kevin Messier, also a Boston-based FedEx Ground contractor, was second in the Twins class. He also turned in the best score in the Pre-Trip Inspection portion of the competition.
- Peter Allen and Paul McNutt were second in the 5-Axle Sleeper and Straight Truck classes, respectively. Both are drivers for FedEx Express in Londonderry.

Robichaud, Sullivan and Wheeler will go on to compete at the American Trucking Associations' 2009 National Truck Driving Championships (NTDC), known as the "Super Bowl of Safety" August 18-22, 2009 in Pittsburgh. In addition, each state winner will be recognized by FedEx as part of its safe driving initiative, The Chairman's Challenge.

The New Hampshire State Truck Driving Championship is an opportunity for professional truck drivers to demonstrate their driving skills and commitment to safety. The event includes a difficult driving skills test, pre-trip inspection and written examination covering vehicle operation and knowledge of federal safety regulations.

In 2008, 70 driving professionals from 36 states representing FedEx Freight, FedEx National LTL, FedEx Ground, FedEx Express and FedEx Custom Critical qualified to compete at the National Truck Driving Championships by winning their respective state's competition and driving accident-free for at least one year. FedEx drivers captured National Champion titles in the Tank Truck, 4-Axle and Twins classes and the NTDC Rookie of the Year honor. In addition, FedEx drivers earned three additional top-three finishes in their respective vehicle classes.
