TWELVE FEDEX DRIVERS EARN HONORS
AT THE VERMONT STATE TRUCK DRIVING CHAMPIONSHIP
Winners Demonstrate Commitment to Safety and Professionalism

PEMBROKE, N.H. – June 8, 2009 – Twelve drivers representing FedEx Corp. (NYSE: FDX) operating companies placed among the winners at the 2009 Vermont State Truck Driving Championship in Pembroke, N.H. on June 6.

- Carroll Bean, an owner-operator for FedEx Custom Critical (Alburg), won the top spot in the Straight Truck class for his third Vermont title since 2005.
- Christopher Novak, a driver for FedEx Express (Williston), earned his third state title in five years with a win the Flatbed class.
- FedEx Express driver Bernie Spine (Williston) captured the top spot in the 3-Axle class for the second straight year.
- Chris Goddard, a Williston-based FedEx Express driver, earned first place in the 5-Axle Sleeper Class. This is his second state title since 2004.
- Danielle Carbonneau, a contractor for FedEx Ground (Lebanon, N.H.), won the Step Van class.
- FedEx Custom Critical owner-operator Marty Goodell (Wilmington) placed second in the Straight Truck class and was also named Rookie of the Year.
- FedEx Express driver David Fountain (Williston), who has won five Vermont titles in the 3-Axle and 5-Axle classes, finished second in the Twins class.
- FedEx Ground contractor Jeff Whittemore and his driver Mark Lovering finished second and third, respectively, in the Step Van class. Both are based in Lebanon.
- FedEx Express driver Bruce Kennedy (Williston) was third in the Straight Truck class.

- FedEx Freight driver Jeremiah Jarvis (Montpelier) posted a second-place finish in the Tank Truck class, while Robert Weller (FedEx Freight, Bellows Falls) was third in the 3-Axle class.

Bean, Novak, Spine, Carboneau and Goddard will go on to compete at the American Trucking Associations' 2009 National Truck Driving Championships (NTDC), known as the "Super Bowl of Safety" August 18-22, 2009 in Pittsburgh. In addition, each state winner will be recognized by FedEx as part of its safe driving initiative, The Chairman's Challenge.

The Vermont State Truck Driving Championship is an opportunity for professional truck drivers to demonstrate their driving skills and commitment to safety. The event includes a difficult driving skills test, pre-trip inspection and written examination covering vehicle operation and knowledge of federal safety regulations.

In 2008, 70 driving professionals from 36 states representing FedEx Freight, FedEx National LTL, FedEx Ground, FedEx Express and FedEx Custom Critical qualified to compete at the National Truck Driving Championships by winning their respective state's competition and driving accident-free for at least one year. FedEx drivers captured National Champion titles in the Tank Truck, 4-Axle and Twins classes and the NTDC Rookie of the Year honor. In addition, FedEx drivers earned three additional top-three finishes in their respective vehicle classes.
